Joost Alferink (january 1964)

Maverick best describes Joost Alferink (1964). A graduate of the Technical University Delft, Alferink is principally a product & interior designer whose forte is design consultancy. He doesn't believe in penultimates. There's nothing special about being a designer. As far as he's concerned, what one does for a living is unimportant. What's important is how one feels about what one does.

Whatever it is I'm engaged in, I'm essentially addressing the question: Who am I? Alferink seeks inspiration in irritation (like the pearl and the oyster). Emotion is his catalyst. (text by Meghan Ferrill)
